HITT STREET TRAFFIC QUESTION STILL OPEN

City Council Refers Dangerous Corner Issue to Special Committee.

MAY TRY NEW PLAN

Chief E. N. Kurtz Would Have a Graduated Wage Scale for Firemen.

Automobiles and other conveyances will continue to travel two directions on Hitt street. At least they will for a while.

The City Council last night considered the question of making Hitt street at the intersection with Broadway a one-way thoroughfare. Herebefore the council has been about evenly divided on the matter. While some of the members have realized that the corner is a dangerous one—several minor accidents have occurred there—some of the business men in that immediate part object to having the street closed.

A model of the intersection was submitted to the council. It showed the entrance to Hitt street from Broadway with a chain across it, leaving room in the middle for one car to pass. The posts holding the chains were to be about two feet high. On the corner of the Stephens Publishing Company was to be a red light warning drivers to go slow, and signs on Hitt street were to serve the same purpose. The plan showed possibilities of accident by drivers who might run into the posts at night when the light was dim.

Guide Posts at Corner Proposed.

The council discussed this plan informally, but could reach no conclusion. Another plan which met with more favor was to place three guide posts in the shape of a triangle at the entrance to Hitt street, two on Hitt and one on Broadway. This arrangement would make all cars coming into or off Hitt make a sharp turn, while allowing sufficient room for cars going in either direction to see cars coming from other directions. The sharp turn would require cars to slow down, while the two posts would provide for a separate entrance and exit on Hitt street. After the matter was discussed for some time it was referred to a special committee to be appointed by Mayor J. M. Batterson.

The proposed arrangement will probably be tried out with temporary posts within the next week.

Kurtz Asks for Graduated Salaries.

E. N. Kurtz, chief of the fire department, proposed a graduated scale of salaries for the firemen. By this plan, the longer the men are in service, the more pay they would receive. The first three months they would receive $40 a month, and at the end of the first two and one-half years they would be receiving $65. Chief Kurtz cited other cities where this system was used. He contended that it would be an inducement for a man to enter the service and at the same time the department would get better men. The proposal was referred to the fire committee.

The matter of buying a new ash conveyor was discussed. A representative from the Green Engineering Company showed specifications for a conveyor. The matter was referred to the water and light committee.

Water mains were ordered laid on Walnut street so that the section would be in condition for paving in the spring. Councilman McDonald, a member of the water and light committee, opposed the measure, claiming other sections were in more urgent need of water mains at this time. The proposal was presented by N.D. Evans and F. W. Niedermeyer.

Grade Specifications Accepted.

The city engineer's specifications for establishing a grade on Lathrop road from Englewood to Glenwood avenues were adopted, and the grade was ordered established.

Councilman Percy Klass moved to instruct the city attorney to draw up an ordinance providing that connections with water mains and sewers be made before a street is paved. The measure is intended to do away with tearing up streets after they are paved. It was unanimously adopted.

A contract was granted to Garth Clinkscales for laying sewers in District No. 41.

Councilman Klass submitted specifications for printing the revised city ordinances. They were adopted and bids for the work will be advertised for immediately.

RELIGION WILL GAIN BY WAR, HE THINKS

C. C. Taylor Tells Freshman Club Struggle Means Earnestness.

SHOWS HOW TO WIN

Three Rules for Success in College an Life Are Cited by Speaker.

"The chastening attitude of war will foster Christianity after the war. Like a funeral, it will cause solemnity and seriousness, which will result in a deeper religious feeling.

"The unification of religions appears too ideal a condition to be possible.

"College education will make the student lose some of the ideals of Christianity by learning the maladjustments in the present church. A study of philosophy and science cause the student to give up some of his dogmatic religious beliefs.

"Any man who has studied social questions cannot help being socialistically inclined.

These are answers to questions submitted by members of the Freshman Discussion Club to Carl C. Taylor, assistant in sociology in the University. At each meeting the members hand in questions to Mr. Taylor, and he answers them at the following meeting.

In his talk on "Winning in College and Life," Mr. Taylor said three things were needed for a realization of an ambition: A rational fight for first place, a knowledge of the rules of the game and sticking to them, and a definite goal.

"The college man who succeeds," he warned, "is neither the man who thought and never did it, nor the man that did it and never thought.

"Men will become the things they desire to be," said Mr. Taylor, and he brought in as an explanation the story of the Great Stone Face, in which the boy by continually watching the Great Stone Face and wishing he would look like it did take on its resemblance.

Mr. Taylor emphasized the importance of fitting in with environment.

In his talk next week Mr. Taylor will take up three psychological laws.

EDITOR PRAISES MISSOURIAN AD

Hardware Age Declares It Too Attractive to Pass By.

A large advertisement featuring household and seasonal goods inserted in the Missourian by the Newman Hardware Company about four weeks ago received favorable comment in the September 21 issue of Hardware Age, a trade journal.

In commenting on the advertisement, the editor says: "It's distinguishing feature is its typography. The careful selection of type, the nicely preserved margins, the fine balance of type and cuts and the neat signature cut combine to make an ad that is absolutely too attractive to be passed by."

"The text, while brief, emphasizes the salient features of the items listed."
